

PLAYED FOOTBALL IN THE RAIN.

Honolulu Defeats Philadelphia in Second and Final Game.

PLAY FAST AND FURIOUS TO END.

Decided Improvement in Playing of Philadelphia Team—Crane and His Men Work Hard for Victory—Score 34 to 10 in Favor of Landlubbers.

FOR the second time the Philadelphia football team has met defeat at the hands of the Honolulu club. The second and last of the football games in the series between the Philadelphia and Honolulu teams took place Saturday afternoon on the Makiki baseball grounds. Although the grounds were muddy and the weather showery, a good-sized crowd witnessed the game.

There was a decided improvement over the first game in the playing of the Philadelphia men which must be attributed to steady practice during the last two weeks. This fact was more noticeable in the first than in the second half of the game. The Honolulu team played the usual hard game, which has always been a crowning feature with them.

The first half was by far the most exciting and better played. In the second the boys were tired out, due to the constant ploughing through the muddy ground.

The first play of any importance was a beautiful run made by Parker, of the Honolulu, around the right end. The interference was fine in this play, as throughout the game. In a little while after Antonio Lawrence made a touchdown. Goal was kicked by Singer. Score: Philadelphia, 0; Honolulu, 6.

In the second play there was a good deal of scrapping back and forth. Crane and Parker indulged in a double pass, and the former made a clean touchdown. Goal was kicked by Singer. Score: Philadelphia, 0; Honolulu, 12.

In the third play Olmstead was knocked out; but after a few seconds he pluckily went at the game again. There were two or three good scrimmages. Philadelphia obtained the ball, but lost it to Honolulu. Honolulu lost the ball to Philadelphia on a fumble. Reese secured the ball and made the first touchdown for Philadelphia. No goal. Score: Philadelphia, 4; Honolulu, 12.

The last play cheered on the Philadelphia boys, who worked like tigers to pile up the score. Crane of the Honolulu secured the ball, and making a run around the right end, passed it to Lawrence, who went flying around the left end. Chris Holt was given the ball, and making a run around the right end, delivered it to Parker, who made a long deerlike run and secured another touchdown. Singer failed to kick goal. Score: Philadelphia, 4; Honolulu, 16.

The fifth play found Philadelphia still bucking away for another touchdown. Time after time Honolulu line was forced to retreat before the navy men. Honolulu was doing the hardest kind of up hill work, but all this seemed to be of no avail, for Rooney secured the ball and went through center for a touchdown. Olmstead's run around the left end in this play was one of the features of the game. Sharkey kicked goal. Score: Philadelphia, 10; Honolulu, 16.

A little playing back and forth was indulged in, but nothing gained on either side. Time was called in a few minutes after the last touchdown.

In the second half Philadelphia started off with the ball. Olmstead making a fine play by easily passing his opponents. Reese was slightly injured in this play by falling, but soon recovered. Olmstead lost the ball to Crane, who made a double pass with Parker. Singer secured the ball and made a pretty touchdown. No goal. Score: Philadelphia, 10; Honolulu, 20.

Olmstead lost the ball and Singer made a long kick. Following up the ball, Singer kicked again and carried the ball to another touchdown. No goal. Score: Philadelphia, 10; Honolulu, 24.

Philadelphia made no gain for quite a little time. Crane secured the ball and ran around the right end. Seeing the Philadelphia men in hot pursuit, he dodged in among his own men, who guarded him well. The interference was splendid, but Crane made a touchdown. Singer tapped the ball for a goal. Score: Philadelphia, 10; Honolulu, 30.

Philadelphia lost the ball to Honolulu and Crane made another double pass with Parker. Crane made a touchdown. No goal. Score: Philadelphia, 10; Honolulu, 34.

Charlie Crane made a run, but got mixed in the mud. There was a great rough and tumble fumble, but the ball still remained with Honolulu. Philadelphia made a good tackle and brought Honolulu to her knees. Singer made a good catapult kick and Philadelphia secured the ball. There was another promiscuous game of hide-and-go-to-peek in the mud. Philadelphia tackled admirably, but all to no purpose, for the whistle blew and the game was at an end.

Three cheers were given for the Philadelphia and the Honolulu boys pinned their large white and red chrysanthemums on their coat lapels preparatory to the ride into town. Two busses were on hand—one for each team. It is needless to state which made the greatest amount of noise on the way to town. People ran to the streets to see what was taking place and pleasantly waved their hands when they found it was "only the football team."

It is to be regretted that there are to be no more football contests between the bluejackets and the town boys, as such events are heartily welcomed by Honolulu people.

WAIL OF THE HAWAIIAN EXILES.

Charles Creighton Acts as Spokesman and Airs Their Grievances.

He Says Most of Them Will Return to the Islands After Martial Law Is Lifted.

Contrary to general expectation the majority of the persons who left the islands recently rather than stand trial for complicity in the late insurrection, have refrained from rushing into print and airing their grievances. In this respect at least the political exiles show exceedingly good judgment. The San Francisco Examiner of March 3d has the following to say regarding some of the parties who arrived in that city:

The Hawaiian exiles who came on the Australia yesterday said they were very glad to land in a country where they will not be followed by spies. According to their story the Government at no time made any specific charges against them, and they were deported at the instigation of their enemies and on the order of Marshal Hitchcock, who has unlimited authority under the reign of martial law.

"Most of us intend to return and make the islands our home after martial law is lifted," said Charles Creighton last night. Mr. Creighton is one of the exiles, and he says he was unable to induce the Government to make any charges against him.

"We signed a paper," he said, "wherein we agreed to leave the country, but none of us were allowed to keep a duplicate of it. Such an enforced agreement to leave the country is not binding, because it was signed under the duress of imprisonment. It cannot prevent an American citizen from returning to Hawaii."

"The principal prisoners are very sick men. They were not well when arrested, and their imprisonment has made them worse. Charles Gulick, V. V. Ashford and Major W. H. Seward in particular cannot survive the confinement, food and hard labor, for they are men of proud spirits and delicate constitutions."

Most of those who arrived will go East or to Europe, but Peterson and Creighton will remain in San Francisco, at least until the reign of martial law ends.

ROAD BUILDING IN KAU.

People Think There is Plenty of Work for Their Prisoners.

News from the Sugar Mills—Two Deaths From the H. A. Co. Road Accident.

KAU, (Hawaii), March 13.—Another Japanese who was injured in the late accident on the Hawaiian Agricultural Company road has died making a total of two. The other six are fast recovering from their injuries.

Judge Waipuilani has been confined to his bed for some time and is now beginning to get around.

Judge Kekani Pa fined five Hawaiians and two Chinese $100 each for stealing one of the H. A. Co. cars. As they cannot pay the fine they will rusticate on the Hilo road for over six months. General opinion here is that the prisoners should be kept in this district at work on the roads and not send them to Hilo. If they have no horses they have to walk all that distance and there is very little shelter from the rain between Waiohinu and the Volcano.

The Peter Lee road is in a fair condition from Pahala to the Volcano, but cannot be compared with the Hilo road. It is hoped the coming legislature will make an appropriation to build a good substantial road.

The Helea road is not completed yet. The work has been waiting over a month for the surveyor to come and survey a new piece, which will complete the road. When this is finished we can drive from Waiohinu to Hilo.

Mr. Augst is in the district and has placed a good number of shares here, and also a good list of subscribers for the Kona and Kau Telephone Company.

Naalehu mill is through for the season. Honuapa will finish in a short time.

Hutchinson plantation has turned out over five thousand tons for the season.

The W. G. Hall will not get any sugar from Kau for some time after Honuapa closes down.

Labor Commissioner Armstrong arrived by the Hall from Kona and went on to Hilo.
